7.2 Nursing Contact Hours

SCHOOL NURSES ON THE FRONT LINE

MEET THE SPEAKERS

Emily Renee Hall, RN, MSN, CDE is a Diabetes Educator with Children's of Alabama (COA). She is responsible for the management and coordination of care for the diabetes population at COA. She provides consultation and collaborates with other disciplines in cases where diabetes symptoms are related to medication & diagnosis.

Teresa J. Coco, M.D. works full time in the Emergency Department of Children's of Alabama (COA), is the Pediatric Advanced Life Support Course Medical Director, and is the Medical Director of the After Hours Clinic. Her area of research is in child safety and injury prevention.

Lt. Jon Garlick is the Calhoun County Mental Health Officer, School Resource Officer, Crisis Intervention Specialist, Parent Project Facilitator with the Family Links Program, Counselor for Youth and Adults through DHR, and is a Certified Licensed Counselor (LPC) in the state of Alabama.

Tammy Moore is an advocate for acceptance, education, and inclusion in schools and communities for children with special health care needs and their families. She is the mother of a child with special health care needs. Her daughter, who is now 20 years old, was only the 18th person in the world, at the time, to be diagnosed with Costello Syndrome. She is a founding member of the Costello Syndrome Family Network and provides resources, information, and support to those children and families.

Melissa Peters, M.D. works full time as an emergency department physician with Children's of Alabama (COA) and is board certified in pediatric emergency and child abuse medicine. She is also the medical director for physical abuse services at COA.

Dwayne Henry, M.D. is the Pediatric Sleep Fellow at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, has completed a fellowship in Pediatric Nephrology at the University of Florida, and has completed a residency in Internal Medicine and Pediatrics at the University of Oklahoma. He has conducted research at the University of Florida Hypertension Center where he studied T-32 Investigator-determining endothelial health in neonates and children by measuring circulating and endothelial progenitor cells.
