

PROMISE TA Center Newsletter April 2015
April 2015 | Vol. I, Issue 9

About Newsletter.....	2
Current Issue	3&4

Dear Promise Grantees:

Below you will find the newsletter from the Promise TA Center. In our conversations with all of the you we have heard your need for information and resources related to employment. This newsletter highlights some resources that address pre-employment. Our website is now up and these resources and others dealing with employment can be found there as well www.promisetacenter.org). Please feel free to send us feedback or requests for specific information and assistance. And, of course, from all of us at the Promise TA Center, have a wonderful day.

Checklist: Finding a First Job that Fits Your Teen

Landing that first job can be a major confidence boost for teens with learning and attention issues. It says, “I believe in you and value your efforts!” But empowering as a good experience can be, a blow to your teen’s self-esteem. It may even keep them from looking for another job. Check out this printable checklist that can help you make sure the job is just right.

- Printable Checklist...

Transition to Employment

Model projects fostering careers in the arts for youth with disabilities. Check out the six state projects and how they developed similar transition programs for youth with disabilities in their schools and communities.

Continue reading...

Youth and Disability Disclosure: The Role of Families and Advocates

This InfoBrief highlights NCWD-Youth’s The 411 on Disability Disclosure, and explores the role families and advocates play in helping youth understand the importance of appropriate disability disclosure.

Continue reading...

Accommodations Categories Chart

Accommodations are often thought of as physical equipment or modifications. However, accommodations can include a wide range of non-physical modifications. It is helpful to consider these six categories with the employer and employee when discussing how to resolve task barriers.

Continue reading...