Opportunity to share information about sexual health work among members - if you have additional resources please reach out to help each other out.

- a. Julie and Karen - Alaska Peer Power Summit happening in September looking for self-advocate speaker on sexual health. Waiting to hear a final number on funding to determine how much we have for speaker travel and fees.
- b. Hannah - Wyoming Institute for Disabilities is working on developing a module based staff training on sexual health. The training will be piloted in the late summer. Hannah is heading to the University of Buffalo to begin working on a PhD in Social Work. Good luck Hannah!

- c. Melissa - Has had several TA calls regarding good touch/bad touch for elementary age and older students. Looking for resources for teachers. Suggestions included FLASH, search using the term “safe touch/unsafe touch,” Katherine McLaughlin’s work, and Julie to follow-up with additional resources.
- d. Jerry - holding an employment experience class over the summer, one week, four-hours/day. Want to include information on healthy relationships and recreation. Asked group about introductory exercises that could potential use. Julie had a few suggestions and will follow up with Jerry directly.
- e. Peggy - Asked if anyone was following the report on sexual assault on college campuses; is the SIG addressing this; is this going to be addressed? We are not officially addressing this within the SIG right now. It could be something we pursue. Rebekah suggested connecting with the Title IX and campus disability supports on campuses to see how or if this being addressed.
