Leading Reviewer Tips for 2022 PPR Submission

The OIDD review team’s recommendation to help further enhance the quality of PPR submissions is to improve narrative descriptions in the following areas:

➢ the impact of Interdisciplinary Training, Research, Community Service and Dissemination in one or more areas of emphasis.

➢ how people with ID/DD are meaningfully engaged in the Research process as co-collaborators, co-leads or in another capacity.

➢ the barriers impeding inclusive research and proposed solution strategies.

Question: Will there be separate reporting requirements specific to this award?

Yes. These funds are awarded as separate grants; therefore, funds must be accounted for separately from other grants. Grantees are required to maintain appropriate records and documentation to support the charges against the federal awards. Required reports include semi-annual federal financial reports (FFR) and annual program reports that include:

- Number of full-time equivalents (FTEs),
- Type of public health professional(s) hired, and
- The activities they are engaged in to advance public health.

To minimize burden on grantees, ACL will incorporate these requirements into existing reporting processes wherever possible. Specific requirements, processes and deadlines will be shared in the coming months.
CDC Funding – Expanding COVID-19 Access

- UCEDD Program allotted $4 million for Expanding COVID-19 Access Funding in 2021
  - All 67 UCEDD grantees accepted this funding.
  - Each UCEDD received approximately $59,700.

- Performance Period: April 1, 2021 through September 30, 2022

- Reporting Requirements: Additional guidance will be provided from your Project Officer as you develop material for this year’s PPR.
  - Excel Spreadsheet with data (quantitative)
  - Collaboration with other community-based organizations (qualitative)
  - Overall lessons learned (qualitative)
  - Recommendations for future activities (qualitative)
