

Sample: LEND Fellows Family Mentoring 2004-2005 Evaluation

Rate performance in Family Mentoring Project using a 0 - 3 scale.

- 0 no demonstration of competency, documentation missing or judged as inadequate
- 1 minimal competency demonstrated, gave impression of "going through the motions"
- 2 meets expectations, fulfills all aspects of the assignment
- 3 exceeds expectations, performance is that of a leadership-level professional

Name/Address	Rating	Comments if available
		Presentation demonstrated good experience-community visit to Music Therapy Program (bonus of observing other families of children).
		Presentation demonstrated good experience-community visit to Nature Preserve. Family-Centered Competency Evaluation highest rating in all areas and comments "very professional and a positive outlook, not judgmental in any way... enjoyed her company very much, played and talked to child without any reservations."
		Presentation demonstrated good experience-in home and community outing. Family-Centered Competency Evaluation highest rating in all areas and comments, " We feel strongly that any family fortunate enough to be treated her is in good hands indeed. We have found many times with the professionals we have that a caring attitude is lacking. They may have more medical knowledge but sometimes more is needed. She has a warm heart and both of my children enjoyed time with her, I wish her well in her future...I'm sure she'll bring light to many families" . Write-up in portfolio followed outline provided.
		Presentation reflected good home visit. Family-Centered Competency Evaluation highest rating in all areas and comments, "It was a pleasure to participate in the Family Mentoring Program. I am always happy to have professionals who are about to start out tag along with our child and I. I feel it just gives them a better picture of reality when they are able to see what our struggles and joys are."
		Presentation demonstrated good experience-in home and community bowling outing with Down Syndrome Association, (bonus of observing other families of children). Family-Centered Competency Evaluation rated as all items either highest or next to highest rating.

		No additional parent comments. Write-up followed outline provided.
		Presentation identified important lessons learned from home and community outing. Family identified highest ratings in Family-Centered Evaluation and included comments, "...an absolute pleasure to spend time with...going to be fantastic in her profession. Her sincerity and naturally friendly attitude makes her approachable...will really be an asset to any facility she works for."
		Presentation demonstrated good experience-community outing to basketball program (bonus of observing other families of children). * Family has not yet returned Family-Centered Evaluation. Excellent written reflection in portfolio.
		Great enthusiasm in presentation. Home and community visit combined into one with special hockey program. Very acceptable because parent working and attending graduate program. Family identified highest ratings in Family-Centered Evaluation and included comments, "very professional" .
		One visit completed because family, by their choices, does not go out much. Highest rating in all areas in Family-Centered Competency Evaluation. Family shared comments, "She is a lovely person, showed the key characteristics of being able to related in a personable authentic manner... the right personality in my mind...genuinely interested, sincere" .
		Great enthusiasm in presentation based on a home and community experience attending and observing child and parent at a community religious service. * Family has not yet returned Family-Centered Evaluation. Good written reflection in portfolio.
		Excellent dedication to maximizing this home and community visiting experience including a perceptive written reflection. Highest rating on Family-Centered Evaluation by parent who is a physician with comments, "bright young woman who will do well professionally" .
		Home and community visit to Occupational Therapy session completed. Written reflection in portfolio. Highest rating on Family-Centered Evaluation by parent who is an elementary school teacher with comments, "We enjoyed meeting her. She was extremely thoughtful and respectful. Her easy demeanor was extremely disarming!"