 - b. presentations and publications
 - c. follow up surveys at 1,5, &10 years past graduation year

B) Data Importance:

1. All LEND programs document the value of interdisciplinary leadership training to children and youth with developmental disabilities and their families. This information is used to support MCHB requests for continued federal funding.
2. OK LEND data is used to document the success of the program and to support applications for continued MCHB funding.
3. Leadership Fellows benefit from the data as;
 - a. it allows the program to continue to provide informational updates on new issues and activities related to children and youth with developmental disabilities and their families; and
 - b. it continues to include the Leadership Fellows as part of the LEND network.

The Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB) requires that certain data be collected by each LEND Program to document the value of the interdisciplinary leadership training to the provision of health and related care, continuing education, technical assistance, research and consultation. This documentation is used to support MCHB requests for continued federal funding. Data will be collected from Oklahoma LEND Leadership Interns at selected times during and following the program year.
