

Distance Mentoring: Usability, Flexibility, and Collaboration

Advantages

* Builds teacher, paraprofessional, and family skills

* Creates an opportunity for program consistency

* Generates a permanent product for future teams

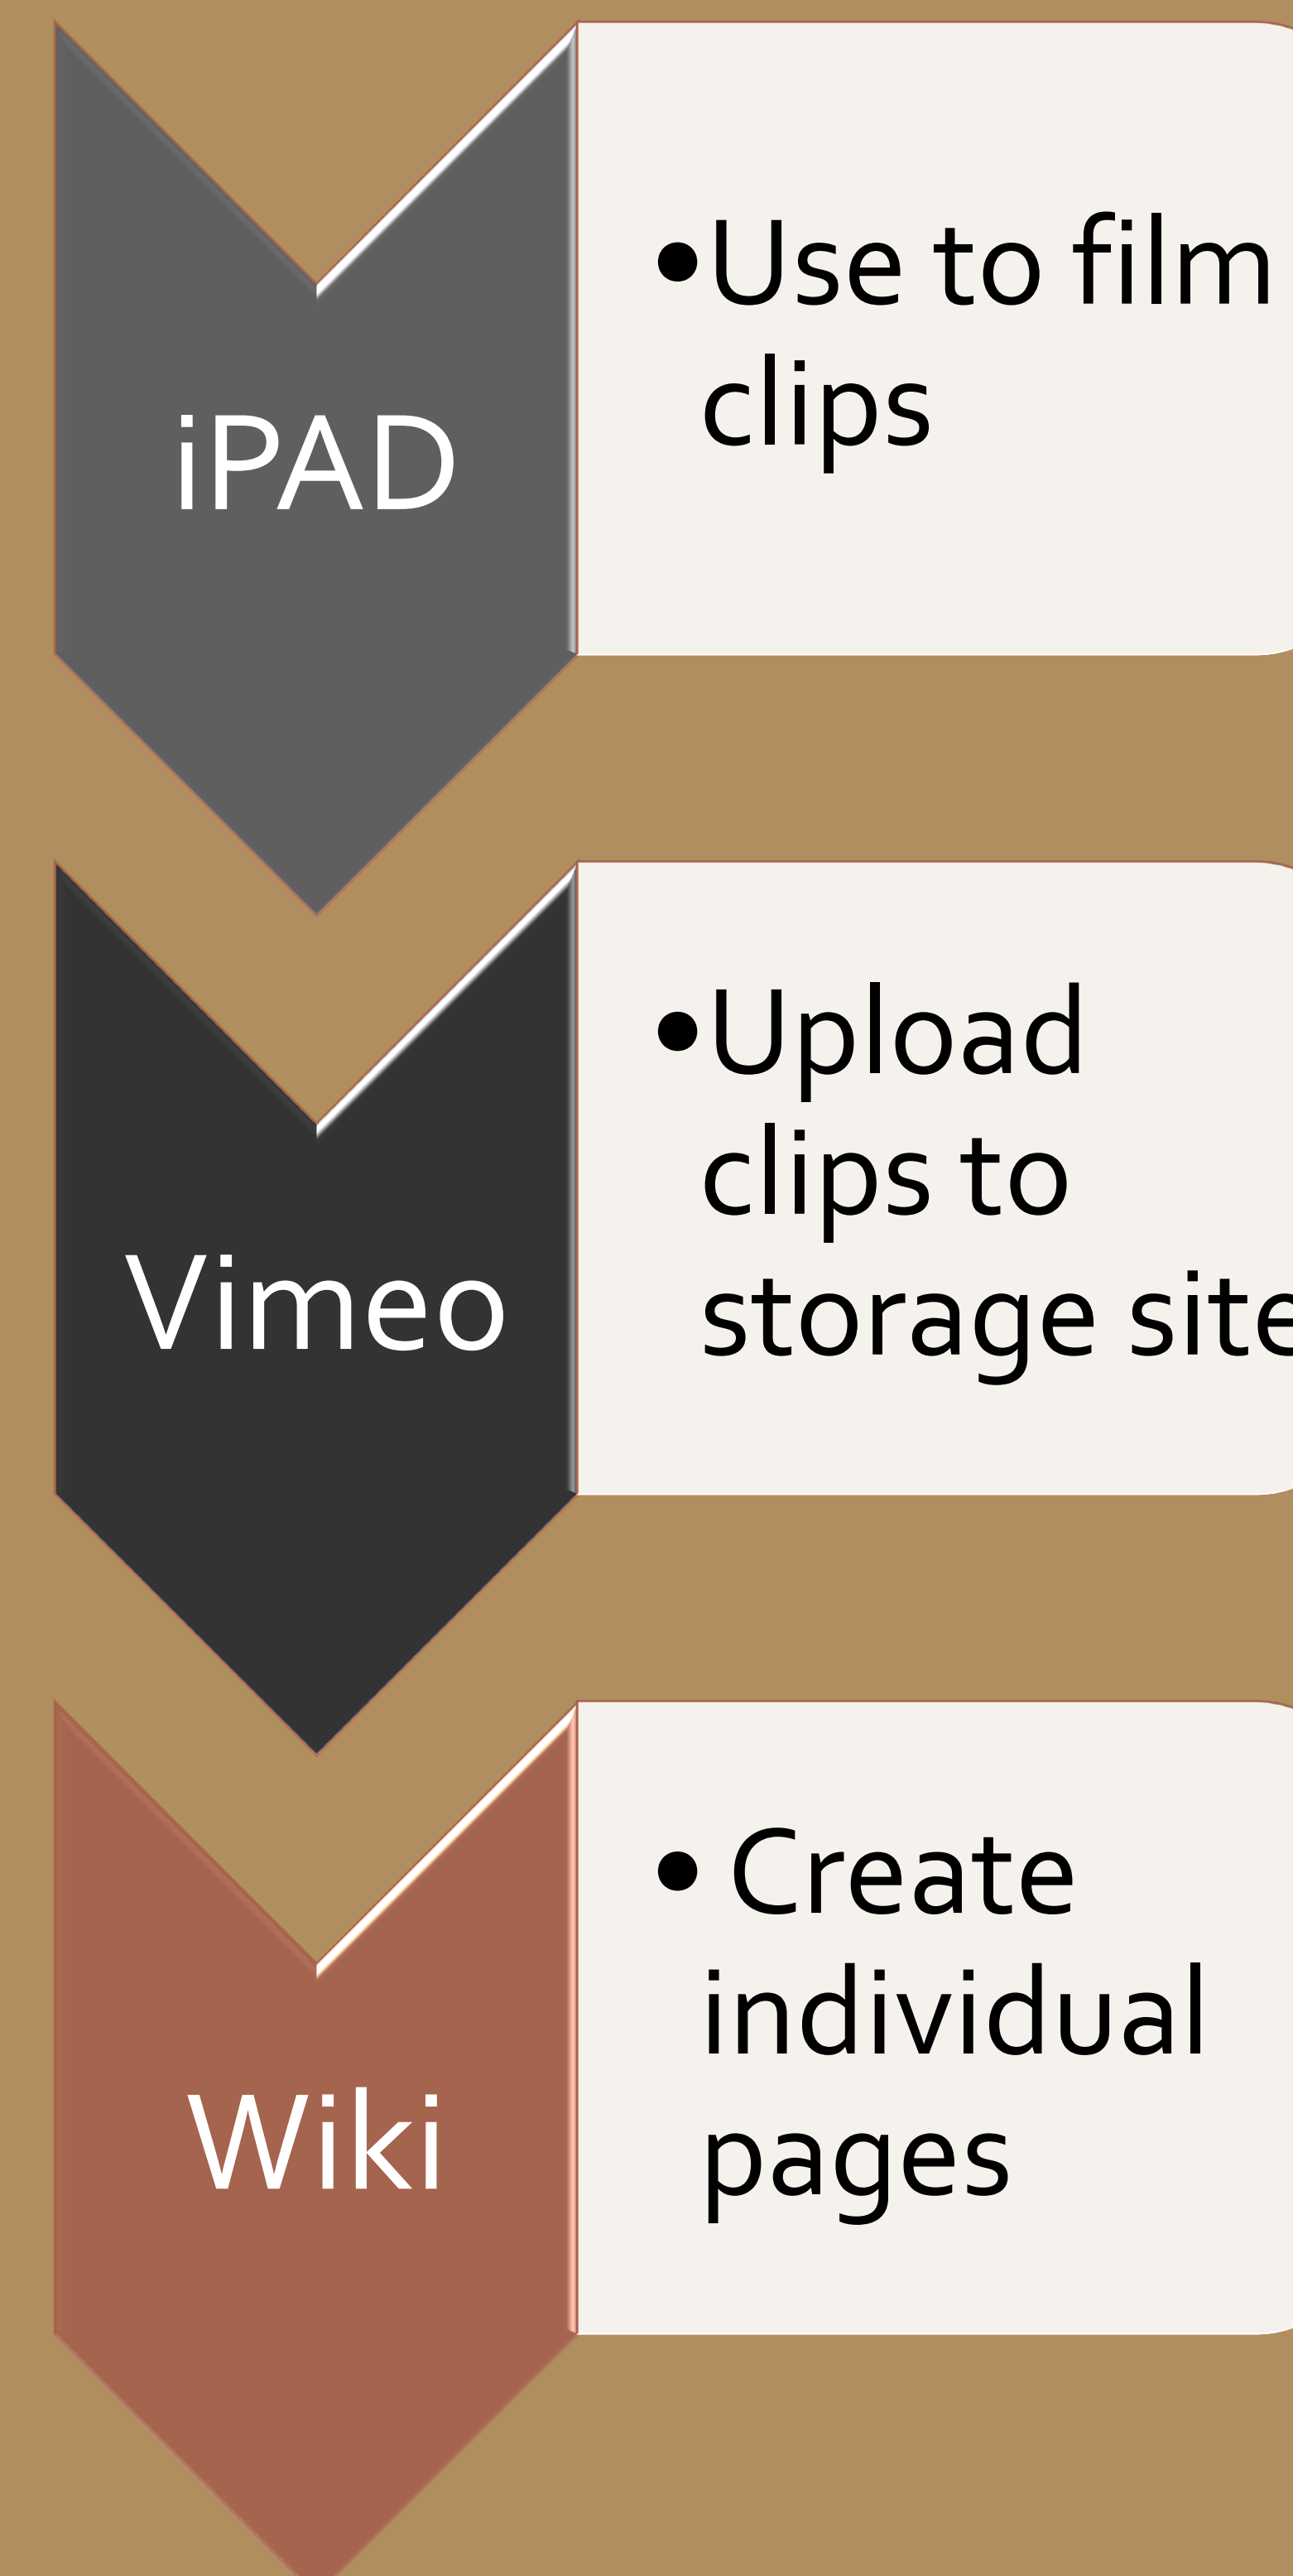

Distance Mentoring

- Provides ongoing support for teams
 - Employs a flexible/useable format
 - Enhances collaboration
- “ Graycee’s ability to make choices went way up. The last progress report noted she was making choices 95% of the time. She is moving from choices of activities into more academic things. We didn’t expect her to do so well.”
